One of the last letters which Dean' Stanley wrote was to the St. James Gazette in reference to a proposed monument to the Cromwellian chiefs whose remains were disinterred at Westminster Abbey by royal warrant in 1661. The Dean says in this letter that one of his first acts after coming to Westminster was to apply for the cancellation of this warrant. He then ordered a design for a monument. "At this moment, however," he says, "I was met by the fierce onslaught made in the House of Commons on the analogous monument of the Prince Imperial; and it seemed to me that to erect a corresponding memorial to those heroes and victims of popular triumph and popular vengeance might fairly arouse angry questionings from the opposite side. The short-lived excitement has now subsided, and I shall be happy to fulfil my project, and to erect a monument so soon as I can find a fit motto from some great English writer to inscribe upon it. I had at one time asked permission of the Poet Laureate to inscribe four lines from the drama of "The Cup," but on consideration they seemed too classical for the common reader, and I am still in search of an appropriate inscription. When that is procured I shall at once erect a monument, unless deterred by some similar action to that to which I have alluded in 1880."

St. Margaret's churchyard, Westminster, is to be transformed into a piece of green turf, thus affording a more sightly approach to the Abbey. The St. James' Gazette accompanies the announcement of this plan with the following suggestion:—"We wonder if the committee have taken, or would be willing to take, into consideration the propriety of raising some kind of memorial to certain eminent persons who are buried there! The year after the Restoration the remains of the late Protector's relations and friends who had been interred in Westminster Abbey (except Mrs, Claypole, whose grave was undisturbed) were taken up and cast into the 'common pit' in St. Margaret's churchyard; the bodies of Cromwell, Bradshaw, and Ireton having been previously hanged at Tyburn and otherwise disposed of. But in the 'common pits' or parish grave of St. Margaret's the bodies of Admiral Blake, John Pym, Gen. Deane, William Strode, Mrs. Cromwell, the Protector's mother; Mrs. Desborough, his sister; and Anne Fleetwood, his granddaughter—beside those of many others, more or less distinguished or notorious—were buried. The spot where they were interred has been ascertained to be on the north side of Westminster Abbey, between the transept and the west end, and a good opportunity seems now to present itself for marking and rescuing it from general oblivion."

Considerable amusement has been caused in political circles in England by the discomfiture of a great Conservative dinner party, who assembled at Finchley to do honor to the members for Middlesex, Lord George Hamilton and Mr. Coope. The guests and orators were there, but no dinner. On inquiry, the contractor was found preparing the edibles for four days later.

The Marquis of Ripon is said to have practically abandoned the attempt to live in India. His health has broken down under the climate. His experience recalls that of Lords Canning and Dalhousie, whose premature deaths were followed by those of their wives. It is getting to be a settled principle that a person of mature years cannot live in India with safety. Only those Europeans who go there in childhood or in early manhood become perfectly acclimated.

It is a fashionable fancy in Paris to have dessert wines slipped into satin cache-bout eilles, the corks of which are heads, with the hair dressed in the fashion of the country whence the wine is produced. Alidante is in a pink satin bottle, and the cork or stopper is a Spanish girl with high comb. Port wine is in a garnet or ruby satin, with an Oporto beauty for its stopper, and she holds a fan in her hand. Pajarete wine is in a sulphur-colored bottle of satin, with a bull-fighter cork, etc.

BURNETT'S COCOAINE

Is Renowned as a Pure and Effective Hair Dressing in Every Quarter of the World.

For thirty years it has been a favorite with the people and a leader with the trade. The name COCOAINE" has become a valuable property. Burnett & Co. have established their sole right to its use in several suits at law, thus protecting the public and themselves from imposition.

The superiority of BURNETT'S FLAVORING EXTRACTS consists in their perfect purity and great strength.

[Per steamer Geo. E. Starr.]

According to American journals Tom Hughes' Rugby colony has proved a failure. During the winter an occasional complaint came from the settlers, showing that everything was not couleur de rose, and suspicion finally arose that gorgeous as was the beginning, the settlement was already showing symptoms of decay. A Cincinnati paper sent a correspondent thither to ascertain the truth, and he says the people there are bitterly disappointed; that everything is wilfully mismanaged, and there is a general feeling that it is a swindle. Mr. Hughes seems to have given up all further interest in the matter, and left it in the hands of irresponsible parties, with a most unfortunate result.

A wealthy citizen of Pennsylvania has written to Governor Foster, of Ohio, as a near friend of the President and his family, stating that he (the writer) desires to give Mrs. Garfield $1,000,000 for her support in case the president dies. He does not know, however, how to go about it in such a way as to make his gift acceptable, and so he asks the Governor for advice.

A Lawyer's Recovery.

We once heard a story of an eminent legal advocate, which is by far too good to be forgotten. Once in a great while our friend might, on a brilliant social occasion, take a little more wine than he could comfortably carry; and such a thing had happened on a certain day, when, on entering court, he was requested to defend a man who had been accused of forgery. The case was explained to him, and he declared himself thoroughly conversant with it.

But, when it came time for him to address the court and the jury, he had so far forgotten, or got things mixed, that he utterly mistook his side of the cause, and opened with a powerful, scathing and searching plea against the very man he was to defend!

The lawyer who had engaged him was thunderstruck; the poor client himself sat like one with the ague—in torture; while the counsel on the other side laughed in their sleeves, whispering to one another that their opponent had beaten himself.

At length, however, but not until the advocate had literally annihilated his own client, his friend managed to reach his side, and whisper into his ear what he had done. "You have been pleading against your own client!"

For a single instant the advocate was taken aback; but quickly his wits came to him, and, pushing his associate away, he turned again to the court, and to the jury, and said:

"Your Honor—and Gentlemen of the Jury—such is the case which I am very sure my brother on the other side will present to you! I have been careful to look at this matter from his standpoint, and I have shown you with what sophistry and falsehood he might regale you. But, gentlemen—What are the facts? Ah! Now we come to the truth, and you shall see how different it is!"

And then he went on, taking up, piece by piece, the speech which he had just made, and utterly demolishing it. And, as he had, in the out-set, presented the case almost word for word as the counsel for the plaintiff had planned to present it, he had left them without a whole rag upon their spars. His presentation of what he was pleased to call the truth was simply masterly; and we will only add that the case was his from that moment, beyond the power of the opposition even to attract serious attention from the jury.—New York Ledger.

YATES STREET PUBLIC LANDING

YATES STREET CONFIRMATORY BY-LAW, 1881.

A BYLAW

Authorizing the Mayor for the time being of the City of Victoria to confirm a certain agreement dated the 10th day of August, 1881, and made between the Mayor of the City of Victoria and James Yates, for the exchange by the said City of that portion of land lying between Lots 201 and 203 in the said City.

1. Whereas by an Act passed by the Legislature of British Columbia intituled "The Yates Street Public Landing Act, 1880," power was given to the Corporation of the said City by a Bylaw duly passed to authorize the Mayor for the time being of the said City to confirm any agreement which the Mayor of the said City for the time being might make for an exchange of that portion of land lying between Lots 201 and 203 and owned by the said Corporation for such a portion of said Lot 201, as might be agreed on;

2. And whereas by an agreement bearing date the 10th day of Aug., A.D. 1881 and made between John Herbert Turner, the Mayor of the said City of Victoria for the time being, therein referred to as the said Mayor, of the one part, and the said James Yates of the other part, it was therein agreed by the said Mayor and the said James Yates in the words and figures following, that is to say:

MEMORANDUM of Agreement entered into the 10th day of August, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-one, between John Herbert Turner, Mayor of the City of Victoria, B. C., of the one part; and James Yates, of Edinburg, Scotland, of the other part.

1. The said James Yates agrees to convey to the said Corporation the fee simple of that piece of land situated on the Westerly side of Wharf street and extending from Wharf street to the sea, with the part of the wharf in the rear thereof, such piece of land abutting on Lot 202 and having a frontage of thirty-five feet on Wharf street by an equal width of thirty-five feet and forming the Northerly portion of Lot 201, free from incumbrances.

2. The said Mayor agrees that the said Corporation shall convey to the said James Yates, free from incumbrances, the land lying between Lot 201 and Lot 203 and known as the Public Landing.

3. A Public Landing to Harbor and Wharves shall be constructed at the joint expense of both parties conformable to plan herewith attached and signed by both parties.

4. The said Public Landing to be constructed after the conveyances have been exchanged on either party giving one month's notice requesting the construction.

5. The said James Yates further agrees to construct, within one year from the first day of October, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Eighty-one, on lot 201, a building or buildings the cost of which shall not be less than Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000), and should the said James Yates fail to construct such building or buildings within the time specified, then this agreement shall be null and void.

6. If the title in fee simple of the present Public Landing does not rest with the Corporation then the Corporation shall use their utmost endeavors to secure to Mr. Yates a conveyance, the two conveyances to be exchanged at the same time. As witness the hands of the parties the day and year aforesaid.

J. H. TURNER, Mayor.
JAMES YATES,
By his attorney Alex. B. Gray.

Witness to signatures of John Herbert Turner and James Yates, by his attorney Alexander Blair Gray,

ESQUIMALT-VICTORIA MAIL SERVICE—REFORM NEEDED.

Might there not be arranged, at a small additional cost, a more frequent mail service between Esquimalt and Victoria? The stage makes daily three round trips between the two places, yet carries the mail each way only twice. The mail leaves Victoria at 11.30 a.m. and at 4.30 p.m., and leaves Esquimalt at 9.30 a.m. and 1.30 p.m. The third trip is an intermediate one in which no mail is carried either way. To demonstrate the inconvenience of the service it is only necessary to state the facts: The first daily delivery at Esquimalt takes place at 12 noon, and the latest hour for dispatch to Victoria is at 1.30 p.m.—scarcely time to answer a letter between receipt and dispatch. When mails from abroad arrive at Victoria late on a Saturday afternoon no delivery thereof takes place at Esquimalt, in the ordinary course, until the following Monday at noon. The distance between Esquimalt and Victoria is only three miles, and if the hours at which the stage leaves Victoria were equally divided so as to provide for a three-times-a-day carriage of the mails, great satisfaction would be afforded both to the residents of Victoria and Esquimalt. A little consideration in such matters on the part of the postal authorities towards the officers and men of H. M. ships lying at Esquimalt is no more than their due, especially at the chief naval station on the Pacific. The remedy is not difficult to find, considering, as we have pointed out, that there is always at least one stage running three times a day each way between Esquimalt and Victoria; but hitherto only availed of twice a day each way for mail purposes. As regards the expense of an improved postal communication the high rate now in force, three cents, as much as to the most distant part of the Dominion, ought to be sufficient to provide for two deliveries each way daily, and we do not think that Mr. SAUNDERS, the mail contractor, would demand, for carrying the mail three times daily, a very large addition to his present subsidy. If our postal friends were to try the plan we have suggested we feel sure that the efficiency of the service would be greatly enhanced and the public satisfaction correspondingly increased.

UNHAPPY YALE.

Our exclusive dispatch from Yale draws an affecting picture of the condition of things there. Many old settlers had the fruits of the labors of a quarter of a century swept away and are now penniless and houseless. The picture is a sad one. Can nothing be done to aid the sufferers? When St. John, N. B., was destroyed British Columbia contributed most generously towards the relief fund. Does Yale want relief? Are there any cases of distress among the unfortunates? If so, let Victorians do all that they can and appeal to the rest of Canada to add to the fund.

Fish Offal.

FRASER RIVER, Aug. 16th, 1881.

TO THE EDITOR:—Did it not occur to you when you were visiting the canneries to speak of the woeful waste in one of the best of fertilizers an enormous amount of which is thrown away every day in the fish offal? Assuming the amount to be 4 pounds to each fish and some of the establishments using 20,000 fish per day, there is not only the waste to be considered, but the health of dwellers along the river. What must it be for those who are dependent on the river for their supply of water? I am informed such things are not allowed in any other country and why should it be here?

I find on the Columbia that the oil factories take all the offal and pay $4 per thousand fish for it, and from every 40 fish they export a gallon of the best oil which is worth at wholesale 40 cents per gallon. Then we have the guano or fish manure which is worth $30 per ton on the docks at Liverpool by the cargo.

While all these facts stare us in the face, and with so much idle capital in the country, shall we stand still and see such a state of affairs? Let us put our shoulders to the wheel, get up a company, start a manufactory and stop the wilful waste which makes a woeful want.

PIONEER.

Organization of a Fire Department at Yale.

AUG. 16th, 1881.

TO THE EDITOR:—As a severe loser by the Yale conflagation, not only by this but by the last fire, I feel it my duty as one of the sufferers to call your attention to the great necessity of a competent fire department organised as nearly as circumstances will admit like unto our own fire department. Would it not be well if the services of our able chief were called into requisition in order that a like calamity may not occur?

The efficiency of the department under the administration of Chief Engineer Phillips and his able assistants, which has conduced so much to the preservation of this town from the devouring element during his successful term of office, would point to him as one highly capable to organize a force at Yale, as far as human forsight can go, to prevent any such catastrophe happening again. Under these circumstances it would be well if Mr. Phillips services could be obtained to at once send him to Yale and as the cost would be very trifling I hope that no time will be lost in carrying the above suggestions into effect. A SUFFERER.

DELAYED DISPATCHES.

EUROPE.

LONDON, Aug. 17.—In the commons to-day Parnell moved that the coercion act had not been administered in accordance with pledges which ministers had given when they induced parliament to suspend the constitution, and he declared the action of the government in regard to coercion prevented any gratitude for the land bill. It was well known, he said, that but for the land league the whole strength of the commons would be unavailing to force the land bill through the lords. He thought the Irish people would be wise if they continued to rely upon their own exertions, which had procured them such an installment of their just rights. Mr. Lalior Daly followed Parnell, the principal point made by all speakers being that the power of arrest under the coercion act had been used to punish political agitation, and not against sufferers whom Chief Secretary of Ireland Forster denounced in his speech introducing the coercion bill. William Johnson, the solicitor-general for Ireland, replied, denying these accusations. He said he hoped before long when peace and order were thoroughly restored that prison doors might be opened. Anderson, advanced liberal member for Glasgow, defended Nolan in urging the release of suspects. The latter in urging immediate release said if the government waited until every one in Ireland was contented with the land bill, the release of prisoners would be long deferred. The debate then adjourned.

The conference of the association for reform in the codification of international law, which convened at Cologne, Germany, yesterday, holds its sessions in the great hall of Hansa. The regular officers of the association are: Honorary president, Right Hon. Lord O'Hagan; president, Right Hon. Sir R. J. Phillimore, and vice presidents from the United States, Italy, Japan, the Netherlands, and Norway and Sweden.

MARSEILLES, Aug. 17.—Seventeen persons were killed and 23 injured by the disaster at the bull fight Sunday. The manager of the entertainment and the carpenter who constructed the seats are arrested.

PARIS, Aug. 17.—At the great electoral meeting yesterday when interrupted by noisy demonstrations Gambetta concluded his remarks thus:—"What you are doing was never done by the worst populace. You are slaves. Next Sunday the ballot will avenge me on your disgraceful conduct and then I shall know how to discover you if I have to track you to your dens."

LONDON, Aug. 17.—An active exchange of dispatches has been proceeding for the last few days between London and Madrid on the subject of indemnities claimed by the English, Italian and Spanish subjects from the bey of Tunis in connection with the bombardment of Sfax, and it is believed the prospect of an understanding arrived at, even the bey declaring his utter impatience to deal with the matter.

EASTERN STATES.

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—The Herald asserts confidently that if Arthur should become president he will make no changes in the administration, will make no removals from office at large except for cause; will attempt no change in policy or in the personnel of the present administration, and is equally certain that members of the present cabinet and some other important officers of the government, may offer their resignations. Arthur will at once ask them to continue in office, and it will be their highest duty to the country to do so. There will be no cabinet changes. There will be no new policies attempted but the country will go on and the public business will go on just as before.

CHICAGO, Aug. 11. — The Times special from Detroit says: The arrest of Howgate was on a complaint sworn out by General Hazen in Washington, and the embezzlements charged amount to $40,380.12. When arraigned before the commissioner Howgate, who was suffering from rheumatism, lay on a sofa, and as the charges were read laughed in the coolest manner. Howgate was a carpenter in early life, and in 1848 was employed by the Michigan Central road in the construction of depots. An officer familiar with the embezzlement telegraphs from Washington that it will reach $100,000.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Aug. 17.—A scene occurred in the French Catholic church at Holyoke during service Monday, when Father Duffern ordered a woman with whom he previously had trouble, to leave the church. She refused to go, and he with the help of others ejected her. Father Duffern is the priest who was compelled by the court to pay a heavy judgment some time ago for attempting to break up the business of a hackman with whom he had quarrelled by commanding his people not to patronize him.

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—The Northern Pacific Railroad Co. and the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co. have united in putting a scientific exploring expedition in the field for the purpose of examining into the mineral, agricultural and other resources of the territory tributary to the two companies between Lake Superior and the Pacific coast. Prof. Raphael Pumphelly, until now in charge of the coal and iron department of the last census, has been appointed chief of the vast field of operations, which will be explored by separate parties under the chief direction of Prof. Pumphelly. The latter has already started for Montana for the examination of the principal mining districts in the territory. The task of the expedition will extend through several years.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—The president is suffering some discomfort this morning from a commencing inflammation of the right parotid gland. In other respects his condition seems to have improved, especially his stomach is becoming less intolerant. He asked for and retained several portions of liquid nourishment much greater than he could swallow yesterday. A nutritious enema continues to be used with success.

A paper gives an account of the finding of a bombshell at a spot near the jail. It is supposed to have been placed there to be used to blow up the police van when Guiteau is being brought down to the court room.

CANADA.

HAMILTON, Ont., Aug. 17.—Father O'Connor, of New York, president of the Independent Catholic church, attempted to deliver a lecture at Watertown last evening. He was interrupted by a mob, who hustled him from the platform and seized the manuscript. O'Connor was escorted to his hotel by a constable. Warrants have been issued.

MEXICO.

CITY OF MEXICO, Aug. 17.—Twenty-one lives were lost and thirty persons wounded by a disaster at Mamelon. Reynard and Louis Zenichers, owners of the powder which exploded, destroying also two blocks and half the buildings, have been arrested.

Dahomey.

The Rev. John Milum, of the English Wesleyan Missionary Society, has written a report of heart-sickening scenes he witnessed in December last at Dahomey. The king is accustomed to go to war for the purpose of capturing men and women whom he may afterward sacrifice to his ancestors. These sacrifices are made every night, and at least one hundred and sixty men are required to meet the demand. On December 10, Mr. Milum and his associate were summoned to the king's palace. He writes: "On approaching the gate of the palace, we were again halted, when I observed a very strong smell of putrefying flesh; and on looking round for the cause, discovered two big pots full of sand on either side of the gate, in each of which were placed three human heads with their faces downward, whilst human blood was scattered upon the ground in front of the entrance. On the ground inside the gate as we entered we observed more blood and another human head. The seven men to whom these heads belonged were sacrificed on the previous night. On entering the palace square we saw the various chiefs seated under their respective umbrellas, surrounded by their people, all dressed in very showy raiment, and each making a great display of ornaments. An umbrella was sent for us to sit under, and soon after the king walked into the yard, surrounded by his wives and amazons. The king is a tall, well proportioned man, with a pleasant manner and kingly bearing, although it seemed to me that I could see hard, cruel lines in his features. There then passed before the king various processions of dancers and singers, his wives and amazons, umbrella carriers, and several hundreds of women, each with a load of cowries, cloth, or tobacco, all of which was being taken to some of the platforms erected in the market, from whence they were to be scrambled for by them. Among the trophies displayed were the umbrellas taken from the Abeokutans, ornamented with the jaw bones of the poor people from whom they were taken, whilst the tails of the horses captured at the same time were used by the umbrella carriers for beating off the flies. There were many other skulls displayed belonging to important persons captured in war, some ornamented with horses' tails, others placed upon stools and drums, and six flags had the tops of their sticks surmounted with skulls. But the most sickening and disgusting sight was that of six poor men, gagged and bound fast, in litters carried upon men's heads, destined to be sacrificed. One poor man seemed to be in the deepest distress. My blood boiled with indignation at the sight, but I was powerless to save the poor man from death. The next day we were requested to be at the palace again, when the same kind of thing occurred, save that the processions were those of the women officers, and the human victims were displayed. There were fresh heads at the palace gate."

Some days after this a new market was opened, and many slaves were sold in the market, a grandson of the king buying a little boy for eight strings of cowries, equal in value to two pence. During the week on which the ceremonies connected with the opening of this market were celebrated, the king was accustomed to throw cowries, clothes, etc., from a platform to the people below, and finishing up by throwing human beings, who were then sacrificed. Mr. Milum states that intelligent native affirm that the victims this year were taken from the town of Mikkam, east of Dahomey, and that the captives numbered over seventeen thousand, besides seven thousand two hundred whose heads were brought in. He estimates that during King Gelele's reign he has murdered in cold blood at least five thousand four hundred prisoners of war. Mr. Milum well says that such atrocities call loudly upon the civilized powers for suppression.—Missionary Herald.

AN UNCALCULATING WIDOW.—A widow in Albany gave her age to the census man as twenty-five. In the course of conversation she afterward informed him her husband had died during the war. "Poor thing!" he remarked, "how young to be left a widow!" "Yes, indeed!" she sighed. "Only eight!" he continued sweetly. The widow suddenly wheeled round and grabbed the broomstick, and that census-man streaked it down the street quicker than lightning.

DEATH IN THE COFFEE POT.—The public are cautioned against purchasing imported California ground coffee. Its cheapness is its only recommendation. The ingredients are of the vilest description, as anyone using it will discover should he examine the grounds. During the perihelia of the planets people should be careful what they eat and drink. Don't allow your grocer to palm off his trash upon you, because it pays him better to sell it than the good article. Ask for FELL & Co.'s Coffee and take no other. *

A BEAUTIFUL head of hair is appreciated by everybody, and how to secure it, interests everybody. The hair and scalp must be kept free from scurf and dandruff, and not be allowed to get dry and harsh. The roots must be stimulated to healthy action. Flexibility and a handsome gloss are essential. All these requisites are easily secured by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. *

OOLACHANS FOR THE MILLION.—Naas River oolachans in small kits for family use, and in half-barrels, will be sold at remarkably low prices by FELL & Co., Family Grocers, Fort street. *

THE liver is the organ most speedily disordered by malarial poisons. Ayer's Ague Cure expels these poisons from the system, and is a most excellent remedy for liver complaints. *

LADIES should know that Ayer's Hair Vigor is a superior and economical dressing. It has become an indispensable article for the toilet. *

Three Women.

Three women went sailing out on the street
To the brown-stone front where the red flag hung.
They jostled the crowd all day on their feet
While "going and going and gone" was sung.
For women must go where bargains are had
And buy old trash, if never so bad,
And husbands must ever be groaning.

Three husbands, all hungry, went homeward to dine,
But when they arrived there was nothing to eat.
Three women, all crazy, and feeling so fine,
Were gabbling of bargains along on the street.
For women must talk of bargains they buy,
And homes must suffer, and babes must cry,
And husbands must ever be groaning.

Three women were showing their husbands with glee
Their bargains at prices never were beat.
Three husbands, all starving, and mad as could be,
Were tossing the bargains out into the street.
For men don't know when bargains are cheap,
And women, poor creatures, do nothing but weep,
And husbands must ever be groaning.

Mexican Women.

A correspondent writes: The Mexican ladies are exemplary wives and fond and loving mothers. Their home to them is their entire world, their husbands the idols of their hearts, while their children are the angels which make their homes their heaven. Yet, strange to say, there is no word in the Spanish language that can express the idea conveyed in our dear old hearty Anglo-Saxon word "home." The nearest approach to it is found in "hogar," which may be translated "hearthstone" or "hearth" simply. Yet, notwithstanding this, the ties of family are more binding in Mexican society than among any other race under heaven.

Why She Was Indignant.

Mrs. Homespun threw down the paper and pulled off her spectacles with a vicious jerk. "It's perfectly scand'lous!" she exclaimed. "For my part, I don't see how any respectable woman could ever wear such a thing as that. When I was a gal, we used to wear low neck and short sleeves, but mercy—" and here she cast a withering glance at the paper in her lap before flinging it onto the floor.

"Why, what is the matter, aunt?" asked Cicely, picking up the paper.

"Matter! matter enough, I should say!" cried the excited old lady; "just look at that fashion plate there, if you are not ashamed to look at it. It is perfectly scand'lous, I say."

"Why, aunt!" said Cicely, her eyes brimming with fun, "that is only a liver-pad picture!"

"I don't care what kind of new-fangled name they give to it," persisted her aunt, "it's scand'lous and disgraceful and no woman that's got a spark of modesty about her would ever be seen in one of them."—Boston Transcript.

BURRARD INLET

AND THE RIVAL TERMINI.

With the warm controversy as to the relative importance of the various sites and harbors that line the shores of Burrard Inlet, which is now being prosecuted with more bitterness than would seem consistent with a feeling of disinterestedness, Victorians need not concern themselves. The quarrel is one in which they cannot possibly take any stock, and the "funeral," when it comes off, will not include any of their wise men among the mourners. Serene and confident in the possession of the splendid advantages which Nature has placed within their reach; with a noble harbor that a ship can enter in the darkest night and in the densest fog with her eyes shut; with a cash capital in the hands of bankers and merchants that controls and directs nearly every important enterprise and industry in the province; with a commerce that contributed last year in customs duties alone to the Dominion exchequer the enormous sum of $540,000; with a geographical position that insures them forever the command of the rapidly expanding trade of the North-west coast; with new industries springing up in their midst and others projected; with a population of 6500, and a real property valuation that exceeds $4,500,000; with the seat of the provincial and federal governments on the Pacific in their hands; with churches, schools, hospitals and newspapers, a good water supply and handsome parks; with better streets and roads than any other city on the coast; with grand scenery, an unrivaled climate and a healthful location, what have Victorians to fear from any present or embryotic town that may at any time aspire to control the commercial destinies of the British Pacific? Nothing. Victoria's position as the commercial and political capital of the province cannot be affected by outside influences. Should she ever lose the proud position she now occupies the "enemy within the gates" will drag her down. The supineness, inactivity or want of enterprise of her own people may accomplish for her what the concentrated enmity of a score of rivals could not effect. Other towns may in time attain to importance; but they will stand towards Victoria in the same position that Sacramento occupies towards San Francisco. Hence, upon our return to the city from Burrard Inlet the other day, when we were asked, "Have you been to the terminus?" we returned for answer, "This is the terminus—there is, there can be, no other." The sailing distance from Victoria to

ENGLISH BAY

Is about 70 miles. English Bay lies between Points Gray and Atkinson and is about 3 miles in breadth at the entrance and four miles in length. This bay is practically the outer harbor of Burrard Inlet. Perfectly landlocked on three sides, but for the existence of the Spanish bank it would present an open front to the westerly winds that sweep into it from the gulf of Georgia. There is good anchorage everywhere in the bay, ranging from 4 to 8 fathoms in depth, the bottom affording excellent holding ground. The Spanish bank is a sand spit "which (we quote from the V. I. Pilot) extends in a northerly direction from Point Grey for three-quarters of a mile, then curves easterly, joining the south shore of the inlet at the distance of two miles within the point. * * * The anchorage is well protected from westerly winds by Spanish bank." The importance of Spanish bank will be better understood when it is stated that it presents a firm foundation for the construction of a future breakwater, should English Bay be finally selected as the point at which the Canada Pacific railway will first strike saltwater. Property owners at English Bay have an abiding faith in the future of a town which to their imaginations already exists upon their land. They point with much plausibility and force to the proximity of the bay to Nanaimo, the northern end of the Vancouver Island railway, and tell how passengers, freight and cars may be transported across the bay and gulf to Nanaimo and there placed upon the rails again for Esquimalt. Standing on the shore of English Bay we were forcibly struck with the admirable provisions nature has made for the protection of Fraser river and Burrard Inlet from the encroachments of the sea by stretching across both entrances the "tight little isle" of Vancouver. The island looms up only 30 miles distant in grim and silent majesty. Against its rocky ribs Old Ocean when in an angry mood beats himself into spray and the fiercest hurricanes waste their strength in futile attempts to reach the mainland shore. It is no flight of fancy to say that but for the presence of Vancouver Island in the very spot where Jehovah planted it, Fraser river bar would be the most dangerous in the world, that the rich delta lands, destined some day to be the seat of an empire, could not have been formed, and that Burrard Inlet would have been an open roadstead, destitute of harbour, anchorage or vegetation. And yet how ungratefully has the Island been treated by many who have shared in the benefits which her presence has bestowed! The head of English Bay on the north shore terminates in a shoal arm which bears the name of

FALSE CREEK.

This arm has from 1½ to 3 fathoms of water at low tide, which, it is claimed, with the aid of a dredge, might be widened and deepened and converted into a fine harbor. Here, it is said, the line may terminate and a railway ferry connection be established with Nanaimo at as little cost as if the line was carried a mile or so further on to English bay. The question as between a breakwater at Spanish bank and an artificial harbor at False creek is one of funds. Both are feasible; both are equidistant from Nanaimo, and the adoption of either plan would not involve a heavy expenditure. The traveller may enter Burrard Inlet by land or water. "He pays his money and he takes his choice." He may walk across a "narrow neck of land" or peninsula for a distance of two miles and gain Coal Harbor; or he may embark in a vessel and steam there. We preferred the substantial deck of DUNSMUIR & DIGGLE'S steamer Alexander to impressing "Shanks' mare" into the service; and presently behold that splendid craft stemming the current of the

FIRST NARROWS.

The tide was ebbing at the time and the current against which the steamer had to make her way is stated on the chart at from 4 to 8 knots. The width of the narrows is about a sixth of a mile; depth of water 12 fathoms; the full sweep of the tide is experienced for about half a-mile with many perplexing cross currents which appear to run in eccentric grooves of their own make and baffle all calculation. No vessel ever sailed against that current, and no steamer would attempt to tow a ship against it. If the Inlet is made while the tide is running out anchor must be cast in English Bay until the flood occurs. If the tide is flood when a vessel wishes to come out it must wait for the ebb. At the time we went through Capt. URQUHART estimated the force of the current at 7 knots. At the spring flood the force is stated at 9 knots. The steamer made ten knots on the occasion referred to. Through the First Narrows at last, and

COAL HARBOR

Bursts upon the view. Here are located the extensive lumbering mills of the Hastings Company, and the new herring fishery buildings, also very extensive and complete. Between the mills and the fishery lies the town of Granville, prettily situated on a grassy slope and bearing evidence of a thrifty population. At the wharves lay five large vessels taking in cargoes for foreign ports and the mills were running night and day to supply the demand. Coal Harbor takes it name from Coal Peninsula on which lignite was found by early explorers. It lies on the south side of the Inlet two miles within the first narrows. The anchorage is good, harbor well protected, roomy, ample, and the shores well adapted for a townsite. The distance from Coal Harbor to Nanaimo is about 31 miles by steam, and supposing the tide to be favorable a swift steam ferry boat ought to make the run in two hours. The narrows are objectionable, of course, and may yet turn the scale in favor of English Bay or False Creek; but there is no question as to the excellence of Coal Harbor itself as a port for the transshipment of freight destined to or from Esquimalt.

Sir Charles Tupper at San Francisco.

Sir Charles Tupper and party reached San Francisco on Thursday and will probably sail in the Idaho to-day for Victoria. A San Francisco dispatch of Thursday furnishes the following very lucid information:

Sir Charles Tupper, minister of railways and canals of the Dominion of Canada, accompanied by a party of friends, arrived in this city yesterday en route to British Columbia. The object of their visit is to inspect the Pacific section of the Canada Pacific railroad and to examine the condition, progress, work and location of that portion of the railroad between Burrard Inlet and Yale, and from there to Kamloops. Under agreement entered into the syndicate have to build and complete the road by July 1st, 1891. On this being done they will enter possession, the Dominion Government paying them $25,000,000 cash and 25,000,000 acres of land. Sir Charles Tupper states that the object of delegate sent by British Columbia government to England was to induce the British Government to urge the Dominion Government to build stations along the line of canal under way, and that many engineering parties are in the field. Shipments of lumber from San Francisco have been recently made. One schooner took down one million feet.

It will be seen that the above dispatch is rather mixed, a telegram concerning the Panama railway having dovetailed with the portion affecting the island railway, and the rightful portion is missing.

Washington Territory.

A large party of O. R. & N. Co. officials came over from Portland to-day, to gether with their families, and will probably come down to Seattle with Capt. Sprague on the Otter. Otherwise they will remain at New Tacoma for the Starr, as they are on their way to Victoria for recreation. Victoria will soon become a justly favorite summer resort as soon as the great advantages of the city are known abroad.—Post.

Mr. Chandler, owner of the Carbon Hill coal mine, is up from below. He is accompanied by Mr. Chas. Crocker, vice-president of the Central Pacific and president of the Northern Pacific railroads. They have been inspecting the coal interests of Pierce county. Since the above was in type we learn that the party went to Kalama by special train last evening. Crocker, the Oregonian says, has purchased coal interests at Carbonado.—Ibid.

The O. R. & N. Co. have now about 5000 men employed on their pay roll in Oregon and Washington territory. Intelligencer.

CITY COUNCIL MEETING.—A private meeting of the Council was held yesterday afternoon for the purpose of drafting an address to Sir Charles Tupper. Several suggestions were offered for the guidance of the city clerk in drawing it up. It was decided that the Mayor and Council should receive Sir Charles upon the arrival of the steamer at any time between the hours of 7 a.m. and 11 p.m. either in this harbor or at Esquimalt.

THE LESTER OPERA CO.—This troupe played to splendid houses at Walla Walla for six nights. The greatest possible satisfaction was afforded their hearers and the last house was larger than the first. The company will arrive here Tuesday and open the same evening.

SALMON.—The steamer Princess Louise will bring down a quantity of Fraser river salmon for shipment by the steamer Dakota to-day for San Francisco. The Dakota has 955 tons of produce from Puget Sound on board.

CHRIST CHURCH CATHEDRAL.—The Right Reverend Dr. Ridley, Bishop of Caledonia, will preach at Christ Church to-morrow, morning and evening. Services, 11 and 7.

UNFORTUNATE YALE.

THE RUIN MOST COMPLETE.

The Oldest Citizens Penniless, Homeless and Brokenhearted.

(Special Dispatch to The Colonist.)

YALE, Aug. 19.—By the time the fire was got under control the property destroyed was estimated at $200,000, estimated insurance, $75,000. The fire brigade was utterly unable to fight with the flames, the water supply being insufficient and with very little force. Insley's hotel on one side and Vanvolkenburgh's buildings on the other side of the burnt block were saved by heroic efforts, as their charred fronts testify. Tuttle's dwelling house and small stables were alone saved in the entire block. Oppenheimer's brick building is still standing, but it is thoroughly gutted. All the merchants on the north side of the street got their goods out in the streets and on the beach where all hoped they would be safe; but when the flames leaped across to the high express building the street was soon an arch of flame under which no one could stand, and everything lying there was consumed. The day was excessively hot and everything being dry sparks flew out as far as Onderdonk's warehouse, at Yale Creek, where the hands had to keep the hose playing on the buildings until the worst was over. The construction train with the gang of track-layers worked till late moving away furniture from houses on the back street and a gang of 16 specials was sworn in to protect loose goods.

A great feeling of depression prevails among our best citizens whose all is gone and who are now ruined and homeless. The town is a melancholy sight of ruined walls, bare brick chimneys. Ashes and charred sticks are all that remain of a prosperous business centre.

A public meeting was to have been held to-day to make preparations to receive Sir Charles Tupper in a proper way. This catastrophe, however, has put a damper [illegible] enthusiasm.

Ordination Service.

An interesting service was held in the Methodist Church last evening before a large congregation, the occasion being the ordination of the Rev. A. E. Green to the full work of the Christian ministry. Rev. Coverdale Watson commenced the service with a powerful address on the duties and responsibilities of a Methodist minister, which was followed by Rev. W. Pollard in a convincing and appropriate address. Mr. Green then, in a few well chosen remarks, informed the congregation of his conversion and call to the life and work of a missionary of the gospel. The beautiful and solemn ordination service, almost identical with that of the Church of England, was then read, and by the "laying on of hands" Mr. Green was fully accredited to administer the sacrament and perform all the duties of a Methodist minister. Rev. T. Crosby then spoke of the usefulness and success of Mr. Green among the northern tribes and of the difficulties which beset the paths of missionaries among them. Rev. Mr. Green leaves to-day on a short visit to his relatives and friends in the northern part of England before returning to his field of labor on Naas river.

FROM NANAIMO AND COMOX.—The steamer Wilson G. Hunt arrived yesterday afternoon from the East Coast with passengers and a full freight. Harvesting is pretty general in all the farming settlements along the coast. The steamer was delayed by taking in lumber at Chemainus and landing it at North Saanich.

THE LIZZIE IRVING.—The two large new boilers were placed on board this new steamer on Thursday and one of them was put in position yesterday. The carpenter work is approaching completion. Machinery is also in a forward state.

The steamer Otter, Capt. McCulloch, arrived from Simpson and way ports yesterday afternoon. She experienced fine weather the entire trip with the exception of a little rain and fog. After taking in a supply of coal at Departure Bay she proceeded north meeting H. M. S. Rocket coming down on Sunday 7th inst. Considerable freight for Spencer & Huston's fishery was discharged at Alert Bay, from which place the steamer went to Fort Rupert. At Metlakatlah she took 8000 feet lumber on board for Massett. Arrived at Port Simpson on the 10th. Took on board an additional 30,000 feet of lumber for Massett. At that date the U. S. surveying steamer Hasaler was at anchor in the harbor. On Thursday the 11th the Los Angeles passed up on her way to Sitka and Takou. After landing her cargo of lumber at Massett she returned to Simpson, where she remained till Monday morning last. From that place she towed down several barges and canoes belonging to the H. B. Co. to Inverness, laden with freight and bound for Skeena river. At the latter place 2125 cases and 15 barrels of salmon were taken on board besides a quantity of tin and lead for Alert Bay. One thousand six hundred and sixty-nine cases were taken in at Alert Bay. The steamer Grappler arrived there at 5 o'clock Thursday morning. Yesterday the Princess Louise and Enterprise were met going to the Fraser. Besides the freight above-mentioned a quantity of furs and oil was brought down for the H. B. Co.

The barque Fleetwing, Capt. McFadden, laden with lumber for Sydney, N. S. W., was towed from Hastings Mills to the outer harbor yesterday by the steamer Alexander in ten hours. The barque will sail to-day.

Steamship Dakota arrived in Esquimalt harbor at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon and will sail at 3 o'clock this afternoon for San Francisco.

Steamship Barnard Castle arrived at San Francisco on the 17th. On the same day the steamship Hylton Castle sailed for Nanaimo.

The Dakota takes from the Sound the following list of freight: Olympia 128 tons of water pipe; 1½ tons curiosities. Tacoma—560 tons of barrel material, 7 tons general mdse. Seattle—217 tons barrel material, 463 barrels salmon, 23 empty kegs, 6 bales hair, 18 pkgs general mdse, 2 cs cigars, 4 bags wool, 2 pkgs boots, shoes and leather, 3 cs crockery, 8500 feet of hard wood lumber, 80 bdls hazel hoops. Port Townsend—20 tons.

Ship River of Avon, from Liverpool, at San Francisco discharging a cargo of railroad iron, experienced rough weather as she rounded Cape Horn. On the trip two sailors were thrown from the jibboom. One was drowned and the other with great difficulty saved.

Conferring the Pallium on Archbishop Seghers at Portland.

There were present on this most auspicious occasion besides Most Rev. Archbishop Seghers, Most Rev. Archbishop F. Blanchet, Right Rev. A. M. A. Blanchet, Right Rev. E. Junger, bishop of Nesqually, Right Rev. J. B. Brondel, bishop of Vancouver Island and twenty-two clergymen from various parts of Oregon, Washington and Idaho Territories and Vancouver Island.

At the end of the mass Right Rev. Bishop Brondel ascended the pulpit and delivered a most impressive sermon. His text was from the Gospel of St. John, x, 11: "I am the good shepherd." This vestment was blessed by Pope Leo XIII, laid on the tomb of the apostle St. Peter and carried by priestly hands across the Atlantic, across to the Pacific and to the city of Portland, where they were deposited on the consecrated altar. The Pallium is an an emblem of pastorship, an emblem of unity and an emblem of goodness. When explaining the unity of the church the right rev. speaker mentioned the United States of America. States, he said, who adopt unity as their motto and strive to preserve it within the essential parts of their constitution, are bound to attain the climax of wordly grandeur. Our own United States is an illustration of this. Behold these forty states, all of them rich in wealth and in resources, rich in capital and rich in men, possessing and receiving daily the cream of the human race. But the union of states in America, glorious though it be, cannot compare with the union of Christian churches covering this terrestial globe and united by the firmest bonds of faith and charity to the See of Rome.

Archbishop Seghers then made his profession of faith, as required by the pontifical ritual, at the conclusion of which Bishop Junger conferred upon his grace the archiepiscopal insignia. Having given his blessing to the assembly, the archbishop took possession of his throne. Then Archbishop Blanchet read an address in which he expressed his joy at seeing the wonderful union of the clergy and the people, wishing his worthy successor prosperity and success. To this Archbishop Seghers replied in a few words, thanking every one present, and hoping that all would co-operate with him in the work. Finally, the Te Deum being entoned, the clergy walked in procession around the church, singing alternately the hymn of thanksgiving.

The Queen's Sympathy.

The following cablegram was received at the Executive Mansion on Wednesday afternoon:—

OSBORNE, Aug. 17.

Mrs. Garfield, Washington:—I am anxious to know how the President is to-day, and to express my deep sympathy with yourself. THE QUEEN.

The following reply has been sent:

To Her Majesty Queen Victoria, Osborne: Your Majesty's kind inquiry finds the President's condition changed for the better. In the judgment of his medical advisers there is strong hope of his recovery. His mind is entirely clear and your Majesty's kind expressions are most grateful to him as they are gratefully acknowledged by me.

Volcano in Idaho.

LEWISTON, Aug. 16—A volcanic eruption took place on the side of the mountain south of the south fork of Clearwater, about 20 miles east of Mt. Idaho, on the 9th inst., sending forth a volume of fire and smoke several hundred feet in height, and rock which fell a distance of several miles from the place of eruption. The shock was distinctly felt at Mt. Idaho and on the extreme west of Camas prairie, and at the mouth of Salmon river, a distance of about 75 miles. Later news from Camas prairie reports that a column of black smoke is still issuing from the opening, which is distinctly visible from the prairie. No one has yet approached the place. Evidences of volcanic action at some former period exist in many places in the immediate vicinity. So far as appears at the distance viewed the opening is less than 1000 feet above the bed of the south fork of Clearwater and within three miles of the Milner trail between Mt. Idaho and Florence.

THE NORTHERN CANNERIES.—On the Skeena, the Inverness and Windsor fisheries have closed for the season. At Naas a few fish are yet being caught and at Alert Bay the cannery is still doing good work. The season has been a very successful one in every way, and another one will witness more extensive preparations in all branches of the business.

FIRE ALARM.—A dense volume of smoke issuing from a chimney of Fardon's building yesterday afternoon caused an alarm. The fire brigade were quickly on the spot; but the alarm ended as it began in smoke.

SLIGHTLY HURT.—A Chinaman at the new Belmont factory yesterday got his face and mouth considerably bruised by a brick falling on him from the top of the building.

"Oh, yes," soliloquized a toothless old man, "ah, yes. In infancy we cut out teeth and in old age our teeth cut us! Such is life!"

Mean folk in this world! There are! A West end father asked his son if he felt too tired or lame to go to the circus, and when the boy said "no," told him to go and bring up a scuttle of coal and the boy couldn't say he wasn't able.

A newspaper agent being told by an old lady that it was no use to subscribe for the papers now, as Mother Shipton said the world was coming to an end this year, said, "But won't you want to read an account of the whole affair as soon as it is over?" "That I will," answered the old lady; and she subscribed.

A Western editor thus retorts upon a critic:—"We are sorry that you don't like our paper. We publish it simply to please you. We would ask you to come to the office and edit, only, if we did, some iniquitous idiot might write and tell you how much better he could do it himself and that would annoy a nervous person like you."

Yellow Fever after De Lossops' People.

PANAMA, Aug. 11.—The sub director of De Lesseps' Canal Company and many other officers and workingmen have died from yellow fever.

PANAMA, Aug. 12.—The Star and Herald says: There have been many deaths from yellow fever in the past fortnight in Colombia—as many as five a day. Etienne, the sub-director, and the next in office to De Lesseps, of the Canal Company, died from it on the 25th of July at Aspinwall. On the 29th Barbiere, Chief of the Brigade des Sandges, fell a victim, and on the 29th died. Seinbroski, Chief of the Brigade, and many other members of the Canal Company, have perished from a fever raging throughout Colombia.

CANADIAN WINES.—Perhaps no branch of Canadian industry has made more rapid strides in the last fifteen years than that of the cultivation of the vine. Then but a few acres altogether could be found in Canada, but now hundreds of acres are devoted to vine-culture. Above all others the wines of the Vin Villa Vineyards, of Pelee Island, occupy the highest place in public estimation. The location of the Island has doubtless had much to do with this superiority, situated 15 miles south of the most southern point of the Canadian main land and the largest of the far-famed group of grape growing islands in Lake Erie, it enjoys several weeks of mild fall weather more than upon the mainland. By the latter fact the Pelee Island Vineyards are enabled to grow the Catawba to perfection, which is an impossibility upon the Canada main. The Wines of the Vin Villa Vineyards are today to be found upon the wine lists of most of the leading hotels in Canada and are obtainable from most of the leading family grocers and wine merchants. Fell & Co. have received per steamer Idaho a shipment of the above celebrated wines. See advertisement. *
